Ref: (a) COMDTNOTE 16471 of 30 SEP 92

1. The subject plan has been thoroughly reviewed by my staff, the Region I and II Regional Response Teams and the National Strike Force Coordination Center, and determined to be in substantial compliance with reference (a).

2. My congratulations to the Area Committee and its member agencies and individuals for this plan. As developed, it provides for a strong area response structure to deal with discharges of oil into the marine environment. I expect that the Area Committee will continue to improve readiness and preparation with future deliberations and updates to this Area Contingency Plan.

Subj: CHANGE 1 TO LONG ISLAND SOUND ACP

1. Forwarded are the required changes to the Long Island Sound Area Contingency Plan. The revision is a reflection of a comprehensive effort by the Area Committee to update the plan annually as required.

- 2. Contained in this revision are significant updates to sensitive areas throughout the COTP Long Island Sound Zone. The effort to update sensitive areas included collaboration with state agencies, coastal towns and cities, and local awareness organizations. Annex'N has been added to incorporate responses to maritime fire fighting and has identified resources and personnel available for marine response throughout the zone. Additionally there are updated phone lists and a listing of pen and ink changes.
- 3. The revisions and changes in this plan were made possible due to the significant allocation of time and resources from Active, Reserve, and Auxiliary Coast Guard personnel. This "Team Coast Guard" effort produced a viable revised resource for marine incidents within the COTP Long Island Sound Zone.
